

Message from Symposium Mammographicum's President

Dear Colleagues,

I would like to update you with our plans for Symposium Mammographicum 2021 in Harrogate.

We remain committed to providing a live scientific meeting and technical exhibition in Harrogate from 7th to 9th February. We are working closely with the venue staff and our conference organisers to ensure that we comply with all Covid-19 regulations and provide a safe experience for delegates. We remain alert to changing government guidance over time and will implement contingency measures as and when required.

Claire Borrelli and her organising committee colleagues have put together an outstanding scientific programme with a faculty including international experts addressing topics of relevance and interest to all those involved in the provision of breast diagnosis and treatment. Almost all speakers have re-confirmed their participation for the February dates.

We again have a large technical exhibition providing the opportunity to see the latest technical and equipment developments and to discuss them with our colleagues in industry.

I strongly encourage you to attend our meeting and look forward to welcoming you to Harrogate in February, all being well.

With best wishes,

Michael Michell

President, Symposium Mammographicum
